Bouchard Père et Fils is a French wine grower, négociant and producer based in Beaune, in the Côte de Beaune wine-growing region of Burgundy, France.

The firm was established as a cloth merchant by Michel Bouchard in 1731, and in 1746 his son Joseph subsequently began selling wines and acquiring vineyards. Currently the firm owns 130 hectares (320 acres) of vineyards across Burgundy, of which 12 hectares (30 acres) are of Grand Cru classification and 74ha rated as Premier Cru. In 1995 the Bouchard family sold the firm to Joseph Henriot.

IW&FS 2011-2012 Planned Program

Luc Bouchard a ninth generation descendent of the Bouchard family, is responsible for the Americas and international duty free markets, for Bouchard Père & Fils, one of the oldest and most distinguished Burgundy houses. He joined the family firm in 1988, focusing on the French market, as well as exports. Luc Bouchard was asked to further develop the French and European markets, along with international duty free business. Most recently, in 2000, he also assumed commercial responsibilities for the U.S., Canada and South America.
